Dear Christopher,

I arrived safely home last Saturday afternoon and had to go to work on Sunday preaching twice. I want to thank you for all your help in making arrangements for my trip to Paris and also for the wonderful way you and Ann organised the Consultation and looked after our creature comforts. I am also grateful for the provision you made for me to have money in France - otherwise I would have been stranded.

I think that the Consultation was a good one and though we may not have achieved a great deal, the fellowship was really wonderful and we got to know each other fairly well, perhaps because we spoke so frankly to each other.

I hope that your travels will one day bring you to West Africa, so that you can both enjoy the beautiful scenery and beaches and also know something of the warmth of West African hospitality. Once again thank you for everything. Greetings to Ann. With every good wish.

Very sincerely yours,

E. W. Fashold-Luke
